EL PASO WINS SERIES 4 TO 3

Mackmen Break Even With Cruces in Two Splendid Games—Lewis and Russell Battle Till Former is Yanked

(Special to The Republican)
EL PASO, May 9.—In two rattling good ball games at Rio Grande Park this afternoon, the local Mackmen won the series, four out of seven from the Iron Cruces club by breaking even.

Opposite hitting and splendid fielding at critical times won for the local visitors took the first game, while the visitors too who first after a brilliant pitcher's duel, in which Lewis was driven from the mound finally, and supplanted by Stoney McGlynn, who held the Pirates.

three laps and tying up the race for him.

Some More Races
With Dr. Bodo officiating as starter, the first point of the afternoon, officially known as the five mile for private owners, was not under way. Two Mercks, with Selmer and Thompson as pilots were counted on to come out ahead, with Hudgins on his antiquated Indian trailing along behind. All surprises on this were wrong, because Hudgins never finished and Thompson came home alone with a minutes and 4.5 seconds between him and the starting time.

Considerable interest was aroused over the five miles for stripped stock machines. The cream of the Phoenix racing colony was lined up. Gerig, Wilson, Bodo and O'Connell being the aforementioned skimmers. Gerig got away to a marvelous start, thanks to the 175 pounds of beef that El Orr cut behind him on the push-off. He turned the first lap in 59 seconds flat. From then on, the lead alternated between Bill and O'Connell, with the odds favoring William. He used good judgment, and for once submerged his passion for running wild and kept his head. He distracted most of the breath remaining in the crowd after his first mile dash, and tore up the dirt for the whole five miles in 4:28 3-5.

All the comedy injected into the afternoon's entertainment was produced by the six-mile relay. The teams lined up with Bodo and Hudgins on the latter's Indian, Gerig and O'Connell on "Old Blue," Wilson and Crandall on Crandall's Harley, and Bodo and Eylich on the only Excelsior to appear during the entire afternoon.

Everything started out fine, with Gerig making the best getaway and leading home for the first lap, O'Connell took up the burden and his team wasn't headed for the rest of the race.

Seth Hudgins, the unintentional comedian, aroused cheers and all sorts of advice when he over-rode the starting point and went about half way to the turn, being forced to roll his machine back, alternating between falling down and rolling over it and pushing it. The winner's time was 7:18.

O'Connell, the midge streak representative of the Indian faction, won both the 10 and 15-mile stripped stock races. He made beautiful dashes both times, and earned all he won. In the ten-mile he was hard pressed by both Bodo and Gerig for a time, but he gradually shook off Bodo, and Gerig was counted out with a busted tire in the last lap while tight on the winner's hind wheel. Joe's time for the two races was 8:59 and 12:58.

The Indian team was well up to the front in all the races, outside of the 25 mile, when they didn't have a starter. Joe O'Connell brought home two firsts and a second in addition to helping Gerig win the relay.

Gerig, the other Indian rider, took the other first.

Some one unknown, had considerable credit to show a flock of bicycles on the track, and let them try for a world's track record for three miles. They made it all right, so far as going slow was concerned. They patted each other on the back for the first two miles and then laid back and watched Doherty romp home several lengths ahead.

Summary
Five mile private owner: Thompson, Merck, first, time 5:06 4-5.
Five mile stripped stock: Gerig, first; O'Connell, second; Bodo, third; Wilson, fourth, time 4:28 3-5.
Six mile relay: Gerig and O'Connell, first; Wilson and Crandall, second; Doods and Eylich, third, time 7:18.

Ten mile stripped stock: O'Connell, first; Crandall, second; Wilson, third, time 8:59.

Fifteen mile stripped stock: O'Connell, first; Gerig, second; Bodo, third; Crandall, fourth, time, 12:58 3-5.

Twenty-five mile handicap: Crandall, first; Bodo, second, time, 23:29.

STANFORD CREW TO ROW IN EAST THIS SEASON

[Associated Press Dispatch]

NEW YORK, May 9.—The announcement that the varsity eight-oared crew of the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate rowing championship, will enter the Eastern Intercollegiate regatta to be rowed on the Hudson River off Poughkeepsie on June 28, will again give this eastern aquatic classic a national aspect.

The entry of the California oarsmen will offset the withdrawal of Wisconsin's crew due to faculty ruling and give a field of five starters in the four-mile race as follows: Columbia, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Stanford and Syracuse.

This will be the fourth time in four years that the winning eight of the Pacific coast regatta has come east to compete at Poughkeepsie. Stanford made the initial trip in 1912 finishing sixth, Washington followed in 1913 and 1914 finishing third the first year and fifth in her second attempt last season.

The Pacific Coast College oarsmen are desirous that the eastern crews reciprocate by competing in the far west during July but no definite assurance of such action has as yet been secured.

The University of Washington rowing authorities have agreed to subscribe to a fund now being raised by the officers of the Panama-Pacific exposition for this purpose. It is proposed to invite the winner and second crew at Poughkeepsie to join the winner of the Harvard-Yale regatta and all three eastern crews compete at Seattle on July 14 and at San Francisco on July 24, meeting the eights of Washington, Stanford and California in these coast vs coast regattas. It appears very doubtful at this time, if this general invitation can be accepted for financial and other reasons.

Stanford's invasion of the east will be especially interesting to Phoenixians because Charles Orme, a local boy is captain of that crew.

FANNY IS COMING

The world's champion woman swimmer, Fanny Durack of Australia, is expected to tour the United States during the coming summer. Miss Durack recently received an invitation to compete at San Francisco with the prospect of a tour of the rest of the country, all expenses to be paid and the tour to be under the jurisdiction of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States.

Miss Durack stipulated on receipt of the invitation that she must have the approval of the Amateur Swimming Union of Australia, whereupon the matter was submitted to W. W. Hill, secretary of that organization. Mr. Hill said that the Australian Union would sanction the tour provided the Amateur Athletic Association of the United States gave its approval.

SPORT... COMMENT

We hope that those who saw yesterday's sixth straight victory for the Solons, appreciate the fact that some very good ball has been served up to the Phoenix fans. By the scores, we should say that so far, Phoenix has witnessed the cream of the stuff dished up in this little old league.

Ray Harroun, racing superintendent of the Maxwell factory, is going to slip something over on the Indianapolis A. A. A. officials, if they don't watch out. There is an A. A. rule that says not more than three machines of one make may go in a race, yet Harroun is entering what he calls a "Harroun Special," which is in every way a Maxwell, except for the name plate.

It will afford a satisfactory test of the A. A. A. ruling. At the Vanderbilt there was no question about the three Mercers, and the two Gordon specials and the Californian really Mercers, making six. Harroun wants the limit raised so five motors of one make may compete.

There is no such make-limit in motorcycle racing, and the result is that half a dozen machines of each leading make will be entered in the Moose 200-mile race here May 31. Dr. Bodo believes the entry list will exceed thirty. It is understood that the Indian factory is sending out one of its special 48-second machines for young Bodo, who, in this race, will be backing his respected dad. For so great is Dr. Bodo's interest in the sport, he has bought a fast racing Harley to be entered as his own private machine. He has not yet selected a rider, but jokingly says he will pick up some cholo, so that if he's wrecked the loss to the community will not be great.

There is considerable question about the justness of the handicaps in yesterday's twenty-five mile at the fair grounds. The Indian team claims O'Connell was yanked, and that he would have had to do 48 seconds. In support of their statement, and successful season all along the line.

The officers of close to thirty leagues have announced the playing schedules of their organizations and of this number the majority are already under way. In most cases the pennant races will continue until September or October, the exceptions as a rule being the southern leagues which will close their season in August. The Pacific Coast League, as usual, plays the longest schedule ending the far west campaign on October 24. The major league races will terminate on Thursday, October 7, and the world's series will begin on either October 9 or 11, according to the location of the cities represented in the series. As in past years Labor Day will mark the finish of a majority of the minor league flag struggles no less than ten of these organizations having scheduled their final games for the September holiday.

[Associated Press Dispatch]

NEW YORK, May 9.—Before the end of the month is reached the last of the minor leagues will have swung into action for the season of 1915 and the baseball campaign will be under way in all parts of the country. More than the usual amount of uncertainty and financial difficulties have beset the magnates of all classes this spring and for that reason there have been a number of readjustments in both circuits and playing dates. The situation has cleared considerably in the past few weeks, however, and the belief prevails among those interested in the various leagues that baseball is to have a prosperous
